2017-2022 American Legion Auxiliary Programs Action Plan

Leadership

The Leadership program raises awareness of ALA leadership development opportunities.

What can you do?

1. Learn about and promote participation in the ALA Academy, which is a result of the 2014-2019 ALA Centennial Strategic Plan.

Ideas:
Member
• Work with a mentor to develop/enhance interest, skills and knowledge of the ALA.
• Become familiar with the different types of leadership training available through your department, the national organization and your community. Pick one that appeals to you and participate wholeheartedly.
• Build your leadership skills by volunteering to chair a short-term project.
• Give a short presentation on ALA training opportunities to the unit.

Unit
• Get to know the members of your unit. Help them identify the skills they can put to use in service to our veterans. Not all leaders have titles.
• Survey members to identify their interests and skills. Match projects based on individual member’s strengths.
• Develop a plan to incorporate at least one aspect of leadership learning, monthly or quarterly, at meetings.
• Hold a workshop/brunch focusing on preparation of reports and applying for awards.
• Provide the ALA pin to new members.
• Purchase a Unit Guidebook to share among members at meetings and encourage them to go online to download information.
• Identify individuals willing to assist members who wish to acquire or strengthen computer skills in order to communicate via the internet.
• Identify individuals who lack the ability to communicate via the internet and ensure their inclusion in all unit and department communications.
• Participate in the ALA Academy as a unit.

Department
• Provide members with opportunities to use their skills and energy.
• Hold a workshop to explain the department governing documents, to include Constitution & Bylaws, how the department budget is developed and their importance to the organization. The goal is not only to be transparent to your membership, but to reduce obstacles toward members volunteering for leadership roles by replacing fears with concrete information.
• Hold a workshop to train department chairmen and unit chairmen on effective written communication.
• Encourage department leaders and units to use tools and resources provided on the national website. More than 2,000 documents are provided on the national website at www.ALAforVeterans.org.
• Survey units to identify barriers to leadership and work to reduce them.
• Provide information to units for participation in the ALA Academy.

2. Enhance leaders’ knowledge about ALA history, programs, and organization.

Ideas:
Member
• Take Welcome to the American Legion Auxiliary Senior Auxiliary Basics, A Course on our History and Legacy at www.ALAforVeterans.org under the Leadership tab.
• Attend district/department training sessions/workshops.
• Volunteer to be a trainer/course leader.
• Ask questions.
• Share past experiences.
• Prepare a personal history of your involvement in the organization; refer to Welcome to the American Legion Auxiliary Senior Auxiliary Basics, A Course on our History and Legacy at www.ALAforVeterans.org under the Leadership tab, to discover how national endeavors may have influenced your personal history.
• Attend an ALA Mission Training session or other national event.

Unit
• Initiate new members. Offer every new member an orientation packet.
• Offer an ALA information refresher course for all members.
• Encourage members to take Welcome to the American Legion Auxiliary Senior Auxiliary Basics, A Course on our History and Legacy at www.ALAforVeterans.org under the Leadership tab.
• Recognize members who have completed the course either in a meeting or via public relations.
• Encourage members to participate in Mission Training or other national event.

Department
• Offer Welcome to the American Legion Auxiliary Senior Auxiliary Basics, A Course on our History and Legacy at www.ALAforVeterans.org under the Leadership tab.
• Offer Welcome to the Junior ALA Course “The ALA: My Organization and What I Need to Know to Grow as a Member” at www.ALAforVeterans.org under the Leadership tab.
• Use the training PowerPoint presentations provided on the Leadership page on the national website, www.ALAforVeterans.org.
• Challenge department leaders and units to use the tools and resources provided in the Programs Action Plan or on the website, www.ALAforVeterans.org.
• Plan workshops on leadership skill development for your department and individual units.
• Hold a workshop to train department chairmen and unit chairmen on how to write an effective Programs Action Plan (formerly Plan of Action) for their programs and how to complete more informative reports.
• Survey units to identify skills/interests in order to develop leadership.

3. Encourage the use of ALA reference documents and materials, such as the Unit Guide Book, Unit, Department, and National Constitution & Bylaws, Department Operations Guide, ALA Girls State Program Guide, and the national website listing of previous annual reports, to include the Centennial Strategic Plan initiatives.

Ideas:
Member
• Download/purchase the referenced documents and become familiar with them.
• Volunteer to assist a Junior member in learning about the documents of the ALA.
• Ask questions about any programs or terminology you don’t fully understand.
• Ask members to review the Unit Guide Book, Unit Constitution & Bylaws, Department Constitution & Bylaws and National Constitution & Bylaws, noting things found puzzling or not understood. Bring these questions to your Leadership chairman for clarification.
• Participate in the ALA Innovative Leadership Video Contest Challenge. If chosen, your video will be playing on the ALA YouTube channel. Go to www.ALAforVeterans.org or your department Leadership chairman for specific information.

Unit
• Set aside a time to discuss important ALA documents at unit meetings and develop a committee to address changes in procedures based upon a review of the referenced documents.
• Develop a plan to assist Junior members in learning about the referenced documents.
• Utilizing available materials, collectively develop a unit plan for projects on which your unit wishes to work.
• Hold a workshop to explain unit Constitution & Bylaws, Standing Rules, how the unit finances are structured, how the budget is planned, and how to write meeting minutes.
• Set aside a “show me where it’s printed” at meetings where members can ask why something is done the way it is or where in the governing documents it says we have to do it this way.
• Ask members to review the Unit Guide Book, Unit Constitution & Bylaws, Department Constitution & Bylaws and National Constitution & Bylaws noting things they don’t understand or find puzzling and address what comes from the discussion by documenting the results. Set aside time to answer any questions that arise from any discussions on ALA documents. Follow guidelines on www.ALAforVeterans.org. Submit, to the national organization, the name of any member who demonstrates an innovative leadership recruitment or development practice, for a National President ‘Shout out.” Follow guidelines on www.ALAforVeterans.org.
Department

- Hold a workshop on these documents, providing guidance on the basics of protocol, parliamentary rules, and how to conduct a meeting using correct protocol.
- Ask members to review the ALA Unit Guide Book, Unit Constitution & Bylaws, Department Constitution & Bylaws and National Constitution & Bylaws noting things they don’t understand or find puzzling and address what comes from the discussion by documenting the results.
- Set aside a time to discuss reference documents at department meetings.
- Each year, develop a committee to address changes in procedures based on a review of the referenced materials.
- When sending communications to members, be sure to include changes adopted by the national organization such as Constitution & Bylaws changes, rules affecting a program, or deadline date changes that have been immediately affected.
- Develop a complete department Programs Action Plan (formerly Plan of Action) for units’ information.
- Help units and members participate in the ALA Innovative Leadership Video Contest Challenge. If chosen, your video will be playing on the ALA YouTube channel. Go to www.ALAforVeterans.org for specific information.

4. Offer a mentoring program, utilizing the knowledge and experiences of members who have served as leaders beyond the unit level.

Idea:
Member
- Complete a (member/leader data) unit survey for your unit. Refer to www.ALAforVeterans.org, Leadership page, and How To sheet found at the end of this program Plan.
- Volunteer to be a mentor for a member or Junior member on the unit/department level.
- Learn the process and apply for a unit, department and/or national appointment.
- Seek election to a unit, department or national office.
- Apply for a unit, department or national committee appointment.

Unit
- Use positive, experienced members to train and guide new members.
- Encourage members to volunteer to train/guide new members.
- Encourage members to become “experts” in some areas so that they can become the unit mentor in that area.
- Discover potential leaders and talent within your unit by collecting a unit survey form from every member.

Department
- Assign positive, experienced chairmen to mentor new chairmen.
- Share articles on mentoring with members.
- Ask new/younger members to serve as leaders.
- Train members to be mentors.
- Choose and submit ALA Innovative Leadership Video Contest videos to eBulletin@ALAforVeterans.org. Keep a copy for your department records. More information can be found on www.ALAforVeterans.org under the Leadership tab.
5. Nurture a culture of goodwill at all levels of the organization.

Ideas:

Member
- Resolve to consider your own behavior before evaluating others. Expect the best of people.
- Participate in discussions or debates while demonstrating respect for opinions that are different from your own. When you disagree, extend the olive branch of friendship since we all share a common mission.
- Speak privately with another member directly, rather than involving others with your concerns.

Unit
- Invite new members to participate in meetings and events.
- Always greet new members and offer a new member packet.
- Provide unit officers/board of directors contact information.
- Unit leaders should encourage members to work their issues out directly with the parties involved rather than attempting to fix the situation by intervening.
- Listen to what members have to say and thank them for their ideas.
- Be open, rather than critical, of the ideas of others.
- Assist in positive solutions to conflicts by focusing on the desired outcome.
- Give praise and recognition when members do what is asked or go beyond what was expected.

Department
- Welcome new members graciously by recognizing them at meetings.
- Lead by example; work with officers and chairmen in a team effort.
- Listen to members’ concerns before responding.
- Keep an open mind.
- Answer questions seeking assistance from other leaders to give a clear and defining answer.
- Give praise and recognition when members do what is asked or go beyond what was expected.

Leadership Reporting*

Mid-Year Reports
Mid-Year reports reflect the program work of units in the department, and are intended as an opportunity for mid-year correction. Each department Leadership chairman is required to submit a narrative report to the division Leadership chairman, plus copy the national Leadership chairman.

Year-End Reports
Annual reports reflect the program work of units in the department, and may result in a national award for participants if award requirements are met. Each department Leadership chairman is required to submit a narrative report to the division Leadership chairman, plus... copy the national Leadership chairman. Members and units should follow their department’s protocol and deadlines.

*For deadlines and contact information, please consult the Annual Supplement to the 2017-2022 Programs Action Plan or visit the Leadership Committee page on the national website, www.ALAforVeterans.org.

As part of your narrative report, please include answers to the following questions:

- What department trainings were held for units and/or the department and were they well attended by returning and new participants?
- What topics or presentations were included in your trainings?
- Of members attending these trainings, did you require feedback concerning what they learned, how this training will improve their ability to lead, and what trainings they would like to attend in the future?
- Did you hold training on nurturing a culture of goodwill?
- Did your department successfully implement the unit member/leader data survey? What were the unit responses?

Leadership Awards

Taking the time to share a favorite story about the positive impact you or someone you know has had on our mission is worth doing! It helps us tell the world who we are, what we do, and why we matter. Just three simple steps to add your part to our national success story:

1) Please follow instructions as you fill out the National Report and Awards Cover Sheet found in the awards section of the Programs Action Plan.
2) Provide details/examples about the activity as outlined in the award’s materials and guidelines section.
3) Submit as indicated in the Annual Supplement to the Programs Action Plan.

National Report and Awards Cover Sheet, deadlines, and Leadership committee contact information may be found on the Leadership committee page on the national website, www.ALAforVeterans.org.

HOW TO UTILIZE A MEMBER DATA SURVEY FORM

Committee:
Leadership

Contact Information for Questions:
Leadership@ALAforVeterans.org

Utilize member strengths (ALA Centennial Strategic Plan, Goal 3D)

Not all members profess to be leaders but each member of your unit brings with her talents and strengths that will enhance the unit. While meetings allow us to become acquainted with members, not all members are able or willing to attend. You still would like their help when needed. Far too often we don’t really know each member’s training, likes or what she is able to offer the unit.

What is the purpose of a member data survey?
This form, when completed by each unit member, will give the unit a snapshot of the strengths each member possesses. Have each member of your unit complete a form. Decide who in the unit will be responsible for maintaining member records. Then, use these forms when you need help in the unit. For example, need a yearly audit of your “books?” The survey has identified someone in your unit who is a professional accountant. She doesn’t come to meetings, but she may be willing to help the unit by auditing the books.

Ideas:
• Make copies of the data survey form and have each member in your unit complete and return it to the unit president. (The Data Survey Form is in the Leadership Program Action Plan how to sheets.)
• Have a designated person or committee members contact unit members who do not attend meetings to explain and complete the form remotely.
• The unit president compiles survey information and establishes her own references.
• The unit selects a person responsible for maintaining member survey records.
• The department provides a copy of the survey on their website for units to download, and includes a copy in their department’s Programs Action Plan.
• Departments should award department certificates to units that have 100% of their membership complete the survey.

HOW TO CONDUCT A UNIT MEETING

Committee:
Leadership

Contact Information for Questions:
Leadership@ALAforVeterans.org

The manner in which a unit meeting is conducted has a great bearing on its success or failure. Unless a meeting is well planned, intelligently conducted, and subjects are presented and discussed interestingly, members cannot be expected to be faithful in attendance. Routine business should be transacted in an efficient manner, yet the opportunity should be presented for active participation of members in the program. It is most important that unit elections and all unit business be conducted in accordance with unit bylaws, the current edition of “Roberts Rules of Order, Newly Revised,” and department and national constitution and bylaws. All unit presidents must remember to be impartial while presiding and not participate in discussion. The majority vote rules, but the minority has the right to be heard. Committee members and officers may transact detailed business and should only bring important matters before the unit for decision. Special monthly activities should be stressed, and district and department officers, as well as local speakers, should be asked to add interest to the programs. Variety should be introduced in music and entertainment.

The President as Presiding Officer

• Calls the meeting to order at the designated time and, if a quorum is present, proceeds with necessary business.
• Preserves order throughout the meeting.
• Follows the accepted order of business.
• Refers to herself as “the Chair.”
• Decides parliamentary questions. The president states the motion clearly after it has been seconded and before allowing discussion.
• Takes no part in any discussion while presiding; refrains from expressing a personal opinion on questions before the house; avoids all personal bias when giving information to the organization.
• Calls upon the vice president to preside if she wishes to speak on a motion or leave the chair. Remains out of chair until the vote on the pending motion is taken.
• May vote according to local bylaws.
• Recognizes a member who has not spoken previously on the question in preference to one who has spoken.
Suggested Order of Business

While this suggested order of business for unit meetings includes items that will not be used at every meeting throughout the year, this may be of some assistance to presidents of new units and to others who are not entirely familiar with the business to be transacted. The order should be modified to fit the circumstances of the particular occasion.

1. Call to Order
2. Advancement of Colors (optional); Salute to the colors if colors are not advanced
3. Prayer
4. Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag
5. National Anthem or other patriotic song
6. Preamble to the Constitution of the American Legion Auxiliary
7. Roll call of officers
8. Reading and approval of minutes of previous meeting
10. Initiation of candidates (quarterly, biannually, or annually, as is the unit custom)
11. Reports of: president, secretary, unit officers, executive committee, Membership committee, standing committees, special committees
12. Reading of communications, including those from national, department and district officers
13. Unfinished business
14. New business
15. Election and installation of officers
16. Announcements
17. Program - educational and entertaining (optional)
18. Adjournment of business meeting
19. Closing prayer
20. Retirement of Colors (optional). The American flag and the banner of the American Legion Auxiliary in miniature and in a small stand should not be used for the advancement or retirement of colors, as the stand of colors was not intended to be used for this purpose.

Unit Meeting Terminology

Call to Order: The presiding officer first calls the meeting to order.

Reading of the Minutes: The president asks the secretary to read the minutes of the previous regular meeting. If special meetings have been held, these minutes should be acted upon after the regular ones. The presiding officer asks for any corrections or additions to the minutes, she then declares the minutes “approved as read” or “approved as corrected” if any corrections have been made. The minutes can also be distributed ahead of time and adopted without a full reading.

Statement of the Treasurer: After the reading of the report by the treasurer, the report is entered into the minutes and filed for audit. At the annual meeting the annual report is read, and the auditor’s report is read. The report of the auditor including the treasurer’s report is accepted.
Reading of Communications: The secretary reads all communications from the department and national headquarters, local organization notices and matters of general interest. Any action, which may arise from the reading, is deferred until unfinished business or new business is considered.

Unfinished Business: Any business postponed from the previous meeting or any matter introduced at the meeting on which action of the unit was deferred is unfinished business. The secretary from the minutes of the last meeting prepares a list of such unfinished business for the presiding officer. Only when the unfinished business has been disposed of may new business be brought forward, unless the regular order of business has been modified by vote of the members present.

New Business: Any business brought forward for the first time.

Announcements: The date of the next meeting or special event is announced. If a social hour is to follow, this should be announced at this time.

Program: The president asks the program chairman to take charge.

Closing Prayer: The president asks the chaplain to offer the closing prayer.

Charge: The president states, “Till we meet again let us remember that our obligation to our country can be fulfilled only by the faithful performance of all duties of citizenship. Let service to the community, state and nation be ever a main objective of the American Legion Auxiliary and its members. Let us ever be watchful of our organization and ourselves, that nothing shall swerve us from the path of Justice, Freedom, Loyalty and Democracy.”

Adjournment: The president states, “If there is no further business to come before this meeting, the meeting is adjourned.”

Retirement of the Colors: The color bearers will retire the Colors (Optional). If colors are not retired the president should say, “Colors in place, hand salute.”
HOW TO LEAD A SMALL UNIT

Committee:
Leadership

Contact Information for Questions:
Leadership@ALAforVeterans.org

"History, although sometimes made up of the few acts of the great, is more often shaped by the many acts of the small." – Mark Twain

Step-by-Step Instructions:

• Avoid the "burnout" syndrome. Ask members to buy into a “one” concept: mentor one member, write one article for the unit newsletter, volunteer to be a greeter at one meeting or make reminder meeting calls to members for one meeting. By not overwhelming members with large projects, they will have the opportunity to adjust to learning and helping build their unit. If an experience is enjoyable, members will be more likely to look forward to helping more.

• Develop a plan to continually develop new leadership within your unit. As members are selected to chair committees, mentor them. Offer help when needed. Be prepared to provide support when asked or assign another mentor for support. Provide training sessions. Consider that you may have seasoned unit members capable and available for help with the training. Also, other community leaders may be willing to provide leadership training.

• Communicate with members. Find those who may wish to help contact members via phone/email or personal contact for such activities as meetings and program participation. Utilize local media. Foster good relations with local newspapers, TV and radio. Issue news releases. Publish the meeting schedule at the beginning of the year in your unit newsletter, and write “TBA” (To Be Announced) for those programs still tentative. Invite a member familiar with social networking to set up and monitor an account for the unit.

• Work in groups of like-minded programs, rather than each program individually. Some units have said it is hard to work all programs when they have few active members. The grouping system is a way to simplify the programs so you need no more than five program chairmen instead of 15 or more program chairmen. Grouping allows for more combined and efficient efforts within a unit. For examples: Juniors, Education, Children & Youth, and ALA Girls State/Nation can be grouped into one “youth” program grouping.

• You are not expected to complete all action steps in the Programs Action Plan; just pick a few that fit your unit well. If unit members enjoy their work, it will create an inviting atmosphere, and others who care about veterans will want to join in.
• Consider implementing quality programs to help invigorate meetings. Survey the interests of the membership when considering topics - a great way to reinforce information about Auxiliary programs.

• Be positive! Unit leaders have an obligation to minimize criticism and maximize positive feedback. A small unit needs and deserves frequent kudos for each of its successes.
HOW TO GROW LEADERSHIP CAPACITY, NURTURING A CULTURE OF GOODWILL

Committee:
Leadership

Contact Information for Questions:
Leadership@ALAforVeterans.org

“The growth and development of people is the highest calling of leadership.”

If we fail in our efforts to cultivate leadership ability, our leadership will deteriorate and ultimately disappear. So where do we begin?

Build confidence in those you lead
• Help people learn and develop. To increase members’ confidence, you should encourage them to utilize the Auxiliary Basics course (www.ALAforVeterans.org) and the ALA Leadership Academy; and to attend ALA Mission Training or conferences held in their departments.
• A great way to build up members’ competence—and thereby their confidence—is to delegate specific tasks that will help them grow in an area they’re interested in. Just be careful that you don’t delegate too soon or too quickly. Your job is to help members set reachable goals and, if necessary, to break difficult tasks into smaller, more manageable steps.
• Focus on member’s strengths. Their confidence (and motivation) will generally grow when they’re given the chance to put their skills or expertise into practice.
• Be supportive. One of the most fundamental ways to boost people’s confidence is to actively support them and build them up emotionally. When you get to know people on a more personal level (e.g., what motivates them; what really matters to them) you’ll intuitively know how to best support them.

Treat all members with dignity and respect
• Treat everyone with respect. Each of us has a direct impact on developing future leaders by setting an example for others to emulate.
• Actively praise a member and provide positive feedback when someone does something well. We all like to feel appreciated and it takes so little to say, “Thanks, that was an awesome job you did!”
• Build members up and let them know that it’s OK to make mistakes. When you remove the fear of failure, people will be more likely to take good risks.

Challenge them
• Including others in projects or programs helps build emotional and creative capacity.
Leaders should inspire, challenge, enable and encourage members. They should mobilize others toward transforming our values into action, our vision into reality, and potential obstacles into innovations.

- Empower members.
- Empowerment begins by painting the big-picture for those you lead. Empowerment also is all about trust.
- Leaders should give opportunities to those they lead, and then hold them accountable.
- Share with them past insecurities or challenges you faced when you first assumed a leadership role. Your openness will only make them feel more confident and inspired by your example.
- Acknowledge past mistakes. People want to work with someone who is human.

Listen and listen more
- When building a member’s confidence, listening to them is crucial. Allow them to communicate openly and honestly about their strengths, weaknesses, fears, accomplishments, and ultimate goals.
- Actively listen to what others have to say before giving your viewpoint. Demonstrate, by your actions, that their thoughts and ideas are important to you. Remember your reaction and body language is an important indicator that you are truly listening.

Connect with your members
- Connection doesn’t happen unless you invest the time to learn about someone’s unique personality, perspective and motivations. Ask questions of members to uncover their interests, while observing them in action to find out their leadership strengths and potential.
- Demonstrate your commitment to their success by consistently adding value to them, providing ongoing encouragement, and making yourself available.

Be a model they can emulate
- Effective leaders should seize every opportunity to express, by their own example, their deep commitment to our organization. Leading by example makes our vision and our values tangible.
- Effective leaders do what they say they will. This builds credibility and trust among members, who realize that their leaders' promises are not empty words.
- Effective leaders are able to regroup and determine a new course when faced with adversity or an unexpected obstacle. They understand that needs and goals change over time and they must adapt to meet them.
- Leaders take initiative and responsibility for their actions.

"It takes a village to raise a child," is a popular African proverb. By the same token, it takes an organization to raise a leader. Developing leadership is a serious endeavor, but it's worth the time and effort because leaders are necessary for our organization to thrive into the future.
